

Friday Fete To Feature Gay Floats

Organizations Display Entries To Win Trophies

• AMONG the features of the 1947 Homecoming festivities, is a parade consisting of 25 floats and over 40 cars, which will march from the University to Griffith Stadium Friday night.

Organizing at 5:30 p. m. at 21st and G Streets, the parade will pass the judges' stand located between Columbian House and Corcoran Hall. Accompanied by a police escort, the parade will proceed to the Stadium, where the Colonials will play the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Provided the field is not soft, the floats will enter the Stadium at half-time and circle the field. Trophies of graduated size will be presented to the three organizations with the best floats. The VPI Military Band will play during the float presentation.

The groups are all backing the plans and are doing their best to produce good floats," commented Jim Hennessy, parade director. "The parade should far surpass anything the University has done along that line before," he continued, "and I feel certain that the student body will be pleased with this first float parade in University history."

In addition, Hennessy urged all students to gather at the judges' platform and to follow the parade to the Stadium.

At press time, the judges for the parade had not been selected, but confirmation by several prospects is expected soon, according to Fred James, one of the Homecoming chairmen. He also stated that all floats and cars must be on time at the forming area or be disqualified.

Route of the parade will be up 21st Street to K Street, down K to Vermont Avenue, out Vermont to T Street, down T to Fifth Street, and up 5th to the Stadium.

Radio Workshop Gives First Show

• WITH THE presentation of an original show tonight in the studios of Lisner Auditorium, the newly created Radio Workshop, is anticipating a marked increase in personnel. President Dick George has stressed expansion in the group's enrollment as a requisite to any proposed undertakings of major proportions.

The workshop group has completed plans whereby meetings of the various campus administrative bodies will be recorded for the benefit of the student body. Coincidental with this function, the group is attempting to promote activities which will utilize each of the various facilities of the Workshop, including engineering, production, business organization, and public relations.

Doyle Moderates At Discussion

• DEAN HENRY G. Doyle of the Columbian College will be moderator at a Panel discussion on Education for Human Relations sponsored by the Middle Atlantic Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The panel is part of the Middle States Association's annual convention program to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., November 28 and 29.

Council Presents Show Tomorrow

• JOHN STEINBECK'S "Of Mice and Men," next in the series of motion pictures presented by the Student Council Forum, will be shown at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow in Lisner Auditorium. Bob Bialek, forum director, has announced.

Admission to the picture, directed by Lewis Milestone and starring Burgess Meredith, Betty Field, and Lon Chaney, Jr., will be 15 cents and presentation of Activity Booklet.

Fraternity Will Initiate Large Group

• ALPHA THETA NU, club for scholarship holders, will hold an initiation of new members at the home of President Dick Scott tonight at 8 p. m. Joy Ivie, corresponding secretary of the organization, announced.

Those selected for initiation which will be followed by a Halloween party, are winners of scholarships for this year. "Due to late announcements of some winners of scholarships and fellowships and to the fact that not all winners could be contacted," Miss Ivie explained, "the list of those invited to join may not be complete."

Persons who believe they are eligible for membership, but have not been contacted, are therefore urged by the club to contact Dick Scott, EMerson 3510, or Joy Ivie, OKford 2012.

Alpha Theta Nu, organized last April, has already performed useful functions. A tea for high school scholarship winners was held at the close of school last semester to acquaint them with the activities of the university in accordance with the club's ideal of activities as well as scholastic endeavor. During registration this fall members were conspicuous on campus for the purpose of giving information and assistance to new students.

Present officers of the organization are Dick Scott, president; Grace Bunker, vice-president; Courtland Randall, recording secretary; Joy Ivie, corresponding secretary; and David Lenarduzzi, treasurer.

The next meeting, scheduled for 8 p. m., Thursday, November 6, will be held in Columbian House.

Parade, Floats, Football, and Dance Highlight Big Homecoming Functions

By JIM PEARCE

Guard Armory—that's a synonym for a good place to store all the streetcars in town in case of an air raid.

Even though it's big, it has a smooth dance floor (a square block of it, to be exact), and that, coupled with Claude Thornhill's orchestra, is enough to make any winsome little wench whisper sweet something into your shell-like ears. There are going to be seats for everybody, organizations and independents alike, as if people would want to sit while a band and dance floor such as that went to waste.

The ball will be on Saturday night, but it's at the game on Friday that the parade bursts forth in all its glory. Starting at the University, the parade will end up at the stadium, and at half-time, all the floats will circle the field. If there's anyone around from New Orleans, they'll feel right at home, because it's really going to look as if Mardi Gras has come to town.

However, if you don't already have a date, you may have to resort to such tactics as bear traps, open manholes, or double-barreled shotguns. You might even stick a feather behind your ear and use a tommyhawk. But, whatever you do in your search for a date, don't decide that all is futile. This is going to be the biggest function of the year, so don't miss it.

Ahhhhh . . . Claude Thornhill . . . dancing space . . . intoxicating . . . perfume . . . women! Homecoming—it's wonderful stuff!

Bill Wendt Announces Names Of Class Officer Nominees

• TWENTY-EIGHT candidates for class officers and two candidates for Student Council Member-at-Large were announced by Advocate Bill Wendt at the Elections Committee meeting on October 20th.

Continuing the slogan, "Vote 5000," the committee revealed plans for a pre-election forum in Lisner Auditorium on November 5, at which the presidential and the member-at-large candidates will outline their platforms and the other candidates will be introduced. The time for the forum has not yet been announced by the Elections Committee.

Elections will be held on Thursday and Friday, November 6 and 7. There will be balloting stations in Columbian House and on the Lisner Terrace.

The candidates are as follows: FRESHMAN CLASS: President—Joe Cookson, Dwight Worden; Vice-President—Harlan Fleetwood (uncontested); Secretary—Dionne Dalton, Marion Baker.

Dwyer, Margaret Babcock; Secretary—Treasurer—Pat Purcell (uncontested).

SENIOR CLASS: President—Chester Byrns, Charles Baker; Vice-President—Jullius Piver, Shirley Smith, Mary Purcell, Randal Gordon; Secretary—Treasurer—Nancy Giglio, Nancy Hanck.

Running for the post of member-at-large are Edward Masters and Lawrence Brown.

To facilitate efficient handling of the elections, Advocate Wendt appointed the following committees. Heading the Publicity Committee is Don Lief assisted by Harry Raker. Other members are Dorothy Dean, Lloyd Cooper, and Barbara Davis. Forum Committee Chairman is Bill Sheppard, with Bill Perkins and Al Zaner as the other members. Janet Doidge leads the Ballot and Polls Committee, with Ray Tucker, Dwin Craig, and Katherine Livesay as members.

Alumnae Celebrate Tenth Anniversary

• ALUMNAE OF THE Hour Glass Chapter, Mortar Board, will celebrate their tenth anniversary with a Homecoming Breakfast at 10 a. m. Sunday in the Roger Smith Hotel. Barbara Hanby, 1948 president, has announced.

Thornhill, Queen, Main Attractions Saturday Night

• HIGHLIGHTING the Fall social season, the Homecoming Program will open Thursday evening at 8:30 p. m. with a pep rally on the campus of the School of Government.

The pep rally will feature Coach "Skip" Stanley and members of the football team. Members of the University Band, under the direction of Leon Brusiloff, will furnish music for the program and the cheerleaders will provide comedy, cheers, and skits for the amusement of the student body.

A main attraction of the ceremonies will be the surprise guest appearance of a well-known celebrity, whose identity will remain secret until the night of the rally. Following the rally, the fraternities will hold open house and have invited the entire student body to attend.

The biggest feature of the entire Homecoming Program will be the Homecoming Ball to be held Saturday from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the National Guard Armory.

The coronation of the Homecoming Queen who will reign for the remainder of the night will take place at the Ball. The sixteen candidates for queen will be on the stage wearing different colored dresses and carrying Fall flowers.

Pictures of the candidates have been sent to John Powers, Harry Conover, and Earl Carroll who will select the queen. Her name will not be announced until the coronation ceremonies actually begin. Fremont Jewell, Student Council president, will be the master of ceremonies during the 15 minute program which will start at 10:30 p. m. New members of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's activities honorary, will be tapped at this time.

"Ample table space will be available at the Armory," Jack Hiers and Pete Smith, chairmen of the refreshment and attendant service committee. Soft drinks and ice will be sold at cost by the concessionaires. (See HOMECOMING, Page 12)

Vet's Club Meets Wednesday Night

• PUBLICITY Chairman Phil Hanst has announced a meeting of the Veterans' Club Executive Committee to be held tomorrow at 7:15 p. m. in the Club House.

The club's next regularly scheduled meeting will be held in Government 101 at 8:30 p. m., November 12, at which time a door prize is to be awarded.

Open to veterans, who are urged by Mr. Hanst to visit the club and to participate in its many activities, are a football team and a basketball quintet. Club leaders thus far in the Horse-shoe Tournament, now in progress, are Joe Layos and Phil Hanst.

Another opportunity of which members of the club may avail themselves is a tutoring service.

Girls Glee Club To Hold Tryouts

• GIRL'S GLEE CLUB tryouts are being held this Tuesday and Thursday at 12:30 p. m. in Lisner Auditorium Lower Lobby. Admittance is on the H Street Side.

Both Glee Clubs will hold their meetings at the regular times—1:30 p. m. Saturday for the men and 12:30 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday for the women.

Homecoming

• ONCE AGAIN Homecoming has rolled around and the University opens its doors to the alumni who have helped to build it to its present status.

On behalf of the student body, The Hatchet extends a cordial welcome to all alumni. We hope that they will avail themselves of every opportunity to visit on the campus, to meet old classmates, and to converse with the present students. After the pep rally Thursday night, all of the fraternities will be holding open house for the entire student and alumni body.

The plans which have been made for the weekend include a pep rally Thursday night, the game with VPI Friday night in Griffith Stadium, preceded by the biggest parade in the history of the University, an Alumni luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday, and the Homecoming Dance Saturday night at the National Guard Armory. Bulletins have been sent to all alumni in the hope that as many as possible will be present to share in the festivities with the undergraduate students.

Many who are returning for the first time in several years will find a large number of new additions to the campus. The most impressive of the recently acquired buildings is the million-dollar Lisner Auditorium. Others include the building just purchased to be used as a Student Union, the Everglades Apartments bought for use as a nurses' home, the buildings now being renovated for use as a dispensary, etc.

All will take pride in the George Washington University Hospital, for many of them have generously contributed toward its completion. The opening of this hospital will make the University one of the leading medical centers in the East.

Printed elsewhere on this page you will find a blank for the use of those who are interesting in subscribing to The Hatchet as a method of remaining in touch with University activities.

Under The Axe

By JEAN FERGUSON

• FIRST OF ALL, welcome to the Alumni of The University, who will be returning, either in body or in spirit, to one of the biggest Homecoming celebrations in the history of this campus—or any of our several previous campuses. More about that later.

• WITH THE RESIGNATION of Mr. Guilford, the Maintenance Department is changing hands. The new head is Dave Barry. The Hatchet has just one thing to ask of him—Please, Mr. Barry, may we have some chairs? It's awfully hard to type sitting on the space bar of a typewriter that didn't work in the first place.

• CONGRATULATIONS to the Student Council on their very worthwhile project of sending packages overseas via CARE. We hope that other campus organizations will be inspired to take similar steps.

• THE BEEG event of the week, is, of course, Homecoming. With the Pep Rally Thursday, the game, Friday night, and the dance Saturday night, nobody will be doing any studying this week end. (Ed. note: Who on The Hatchet studies?) Anyway, ignore the mid-terms, forget the term papers, and turn-out for anything and everything. It's our Homecoming, as well as the Alums', and we might as well enjoy it.

• WE UNHAPPILY note that the football team has been thrown for another loss. We're not football experts, and have no room to talk, but we wonder how much some really rousing school spirit would help the situation? If that story sounds familiar, don't be surprised, it's the theme song of every editor to stick his name on the masthead. But we still hope.

• WITH THIS issue Foggy Bottom returns to the campus (page 7). The ghosts, who, incidentally, are being replaced for a time by Andy Platt, would like contributions from anyone and everyone who knows anything of interest. (I would too, writing this thing at 3 a.m. with nothing to write about is no joke.) They assume, by the way, that the students realize that F. B. returns to an otherwise "high class" paper because of an overwhelming demand. In fact, the editors have come to the conclusion that if The Hatchet printed nothing but Foggy Bottom nobody would know the difference, except for a few publicity managers.

• OUR FAVORITE Hatchet headline for this week: "Fox Teaches Navy." (Ed. note: Are you sure that shouldn't be "Wolf"?)

Dear Alumnus:

Do you want future copies of the Hatchet mailed to your home? The subscription rate is two dollars. We will be glad to accommodate you.

Sincerely,

Have You Met?

• BARBARA HANBY, versatile coed-about-campus, who is president of Mortar Board, vice-president of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma, has her "finger in every pie" on campus, yet maintains a better-than-"B" scholastic average as required by the provisions of the four-year scholarship she holds.

Barbara has that rare combination of beauty, brains, and talent. Her list of organizations in which she actively participates reads like page 306 in the University Catalogue.

The Pi K A's early recognized her when, only a freshman, she was selected as their "Dream Girl".

Her shrewd business acumen came to light in her efficiently successful handling of Cherry Tree advertising matters, business manager, and more recently in her work as Advertising Manager of the Hatchet.

The coveted Kappa Kappa Gamma Scholarship Pin was awarded to Barbara last year for improving her scholarship above that of anyone else in the sorority.

You may ask of Barbara, "How can she be so 'Brainy' yet have such an inspiring and vibrant personality?" The answer is in her many hidden talents. Away from school, you will see an entirely different far-from-dull side of Barbara's life—her private life. It is in this private life that she may be discovered doing such things as playing the piano remarkably well, rendering beautiful oil paintings, playing with almost professional skill any game or sport which strikes her fancy, and designing and making of her clothes.

Travel is a magic word for Barbara. It represents her big ambition when she graduates in psychology next June. This summer she tried out her ambition by motoring with three other Kappas to the West Coast and back. A beautiful description of this trip is told in photographs taken by Barbara, for she, too, is a camera fan.

Fine arts, domestic arts, sports, scholarship—name any field of endeavor and you can be sure Barbara will answer with more than just a passing knowledge. They say if you want a thing done, ask a busy person—but if you want a thing done well, ask a busy person with real talent by the name of Barbara Hanby.

BARBARA HANBY

Poster Contest

• ALL INTERESTED University students are invited to submit a Christmas cartoon to The Hatchet. The cartoons will be judged by Dean Kayser on the basis of humor and art, and those selected for prizes will appear in The Hatchet.

Prizes of $5.00, $3.00, and $2.00 are being offered for the three top drawings. No person will be permitted to win more than two prizes. The theme of the cartoons should be in line with the Christmas season motif, and they should be done as ink drawings. All entries become the property of The Hatchet after the contest.

The best of the cartoons will appear on December 9 in the Christmas advertising supplement of The Hatchet, which will display Christmas gift specials from all over the city for the benefit of the students.

Election Advertising

• ALL CANDIDATES for the coming class election wishing to advertise in The Hatchet should contact Barbara Hanby, advertising manager, by noon Friday, October 30. The Hatchet will carry a special section for qualifications and pictures of the candidates for all offices in the election on November 6 and 7.

A tentative maximum of 13 column inches has been set. Student rates for this advertising will be $1.00 per column-inch; additional charge will be made for cuts of pictures to be run in the ad. All advertising copy must be typed and pictures are to be glossy prints. These can be left at the switchboard in Strong Hall.

Hatchet Meeting

• AS USUAL, The Hatchet staff meeting will be held tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in The Hatchet Office, Building M. All regular staff members are requested to attend, as well as any other students who are interested in jobs on The Hatchet.

Dean Fox Discusses Education

• "IS AMERICAN higher education adequate?" was the subject of discussion between members of the Current Affairs Club, led by Dean James H. Fox of the School of Education, at a meeting Wednesday night in the Maxwell Cafeteria.

Dean Fox declared that, "While American colleges are definitely not doing an adequate job at present, they are aware of their shortcomings and have definite plans for overcoming them." Such aspects of the problem as how many people should go to college, what methods of selection should be used, and how the educational process should be carried out, formed the main topics of discussion.

Dean Fox also stated that one of the major tasks facing the colleges is that of "selling" higher education to a large group of high school graduates who do not feel college is worthwhile; this group is estimated at 50% of the best-equipped high school graduates.

Preceding the discussion, a brief business meeting was held; at which the following officers were elected: President, Fritz Kahn; vice-president, Beverly Barrett; corresponding secretary, Jack McKee; recording secretary, Shirley Lebowitz; and treasurer, Tom Pacl. Ann Pasternack and Albro Martin were appointed chairmen of the program and publicity committees, respectively.

At a mock meeting of the International Court of Justice of the UN, to be held in Baltimore, November 15, Colin Hughes and Don Myrick, of the Club, will represent the university.

The Club unanimously passed a resolution to express to President Marvin its concern and disapproval regarding the recent increase, from 12 to 50 dollars in the rate which the University charges for use of Lisner Auditorium by free, student-sponsored affairs.

Mens' Honorary Taps New Members

• OMICRON DELTA KAPPA national men's leadership honorary, will tap six undergraduates and three faculty members for membership at the Homecoming Ball this Saturday night, November 1, it was announced this week by Dick Generally, president of the local chapter.

Membership in ODK is based upon a record of meritorious service in collegiate activities on the part of the candidate. In addition to an outstanding activities record, undergraduate members must have achieved Junior standing in the University and have a point index equal to or better than the All-Mens' Average.

ODK was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914, and today has chapters on over 50 campuses throughout the country with over 10,000 members. The general purposes of the organization include not only recognition of outstanding service in student affairs, but contribution to and support of school activities through student-faculty joint endeavor.

Initiation for new members to be tapped Saturday will be held the first week in November.

Square Dancers Honor Ralph Case

• THE FIRST OPEN meeting of the Square Dance Group will be held Thursday, November 6, at 8:30 p.m. in Building J. Managers Tom Pence and Pat Ludwig announced this week.

Guest of honor at the square dance will be Ralph Case, well-known caller around Washington. Dancing will continue until 10 p.m.

The Square Dance Group is sponsored by the Dance Production Groups under the direction of Elizabeth Logan, business manager. Miss Elizabeth Burnett is advisor for the group.

Board of Trustees Announces Appointments; Ferguson, Neil, Voneiff Head New Hatchet Staff

Friday Deadline

• DR. BURNICE JARMAN, registrar, has announced that the deadline for dropping courses is October 31 in all schools of the University.

Thirty Educators Organize Classes In West Virginia

• A GROUP OF THIRTY educators are meeting once a week at Charlestown, West Virginia, with a member of the University School of Education staff. The purpose of these meetings is to carry out an extension course in an effort to meet the needs of the elementary school teachers of that area for in-service training.

This group is studying under the Division of University Students and will receive the usual three hour credit upon completion of the work of a semester in the course, as if they were studying at the University campus.

The class was organized on September 29 and meets one evening a week on the date scheduled by the speaker of the occasion.

Those who have participated so far as instructors in this course on "Curriculum" are Dr. Charles E. Bish, associate professor of education, and Dr. Burnice H. Jarman, professor of education and University registrar. Instructors participating in the future will be assistant Professor Arthur Hoppe, Mrs. Foust and Dr. James H. Fox, dean of the School of Education.

• AT THE REQUEST of the Student Council and The Hatchet for prompt clarification of the position of The Hatchet, The Board of Trustees announced last Friday the confirmation of appointments for a permanent Board of Editors, consisting of Jean Ferguson, Katrine Neil, and Jack Voneiff, Business Manager.

These names were selected from those recommended or submitted by the Student Council, and the Student Council Committee on The Hatchet. The appointments became effective immediately.

The Board of Publications is at present considering the Constitution submitted to it by the Student Council. Until a decision is reached, and the Constitution is formally approved, the Board of Trustees has authorized The Hatchet to operate under the old charter.

Miss Ferguson has been a member of the Junior and Senior Staffs of The Hatchet for the past year and a half. She has also had experience as a commercial proof-reader. At present she is Business Manager of the Glee Club, a member of the Student Life Committee, Delphi, Delta Zeta, COGS, and Big Sisters.

Miss Neil served on the Junior and Senior Staffs of The Hatchet last year, and has done some commercial newspaper work. She is Publicity Manager of the Inter-sorority Athletic Board, a member of W.R.A. Executive Board, Big Sisters, The Cherry Tree Organizations and Copy Staffs, and Delta Zeta.

Mr. Voneiff was the Assistant Business Manager of The Hatchet last year. In addition, he was at one time a member of the make-up staff of the M.I.T. VooDoo. He is at present treasurer of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Classes Dismissed

• OWING TO THE Homecoming activities scheduled on October 31, all 7 and 8 p.m. classes will be dismissed on that date, according to Dr. Burnice Jarman, Registrar.

New Dispensary Now Installed On G Street

• EXPANSION OF THE University dispensary service is planned as the Health Administration Service moved to its new building at 2108 G Street on October 17.

According to the present schedule, a resident physician is on duty all day, Dr. Luther Sheldon, Jr., from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m., and Dr. Elizabeth Kahler from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

The expanded quarters provide a private office and examining room for each doctor. The nurses' office is set at one side of the waiting room and a laboratory is also included in the set-up. Fluorescent lighting has been installed in the redecorated building and additional equipment has been purchased.

The aim of the expanded program is to increase the scope of the department and to give better service. It is attempting to meet the needs of part time and evening students as well as full time students. Physical examinations and three treatments for any one illness are now available without charge.

The services of six specialists may be attained at student rates on a referral basis or in cases of emergency. Fees are charged for x-rays, blood tests and other special examinations.

Official Tasters Club Prepares For Rigorous Trials While The Gals Experiment On Their New Recipes

By Jim Pearce

• DO YOU RECALL the ancient myth concerning the venerable King Mithradates, who took a little poison every day for an after-dinner snack until he no longer had to worry about what was in his hash at state dinners? Anyway, or so the story goes, "Mithradates, he died old."

Some of our University males have come to the conclusion that the old fellow wasn't so stupid after all. The Official Tasters, men's auxiliary of the home economics club, have decided to give their all to science. They are going to eat what comes out of the home economics department!

It all began when some stray males found themselves in front of the home economics club booth during the Lisner orientation rally. Either they were feeling quite gay or looking too hard at what was standing behind the booth. At any rate, they volunteered their services for the good of the cause and the address book.

Oma Hilliard, president of the home economics club, has announced that an Official Tasters Tea is to be held in the near future. This is laughingly referred to as D-Day. However, after looking at some of the femmes fatale who belong to the society of future biscuit makers, I'm inclined to believe that even if they come up with synthetic arsenic, it would be worth it.

So if you're interested, if you are a reckless daredevil, if you want an indoctrination course in gastronomic bliss, just call Miss Hilliard at Ludlow 0808, and she'll give you all the gruesome details. I shall not brazenly commit myself, but I'm inclined to believe that they just might turn out some dishes fit for a king. Whether it be fit for Mithradates or Henry VIII is another question.

Frats End Fall Rush; Pledge 258

• FORMAL FRATERNITY pledging last Sunday ended the 1947 fall rush season with 258 men affiliated with the 15 social fraternities engaged in rushing.

Begun October 4 with the IFC Smoker, this year's season was distinguished by its unusual length and the fact that many of the fraternities have moved to bigger and better quarters since last year's season. This year saw the re-activation of Delta Tau Delta and the first rushing of the IFC's most recent members—Tau Epsilon Phi and Alpha Epsilon Pi.

The Inter-fraternity Council announcing the following affiliations with its member organizations:

ACACIA: George M. Aldridge, Walter Fackler, Harry C. Jones, W. Van Neste, Paul C. Osconyon, and Douglas Riedout.

ALPHA EPSILON PI: Donald Goldstein, Stanley Lee, Robert Lesser, Carl Marcus, Renan Rieur, Jerry Swartz, and George Weinberger.

DELTA TAU DELTA: Charles Crichton, Jack Laws, Buzz March, George Maverick, Don Myrick, and Ray Tucker.

KAPPA ALPHA: George Bauenschmidt, Bob Beckman, Gordon Beckman, Bill Benach, Bob Bondy, Walter Borkowski, Jeff Bortner, Doyle Bradshaw, Warren Bunting, John Byers, Bill Cuddy, Russ Dahm, Maynard DeWitt, Ed Dorosh, Ed Duplinsky, Fred Garner, Bud Hobson, Lee Harvey, Don Holliday, Carl Hurst, Hal Jensen, Graham Kerr, Joe Koach, Buddy Miller, Bob Morgan, George Myers, John O'Leary, Jim Parker, Tom Parker, Jim Peters, Bill Smith, Walter Steinbauer, Samuel Streb, Julian Sutherland, Bill Tupman, and Henry Watkins.

KAPPA SIGMA: Bud Luscomb, Phil Franklin, Fritz Weathers, Doug Thorsen, Harold Ruscher, Jack Stohar, Bud Fugh, Dan Novakovich, Jim Roberson, Frank Martins, Bob Schomaker, Bill Stallsmith, Bill Thomas, Dick Nearman, Harry Crosswell, Pat DonVito, Charles Hergenrath, Valter Hallish, and Pete Shundish.

PHI ALPHA: Morton J. Tanks, Charles Kiczales, Morris Cohen, Raymond Goldstein, Robert Mellon, Stanley Schapiro, Samuel Zelkowitz, Leo Weintraub, Stanley Crowley, Julian Singman, and Charles Goldberg.

Government Group Votes On Officers

• WORLD GOVERNMENT, Seminar group elections were held on Tuesdays, October 21, in Government 101. The new president of the group is Donald M. Myrick.

Other officers are recording secretary, Phyllis Patterson; corresponding secretary, Jack McKee; treasurer, Ann Pasternack; World Affairs Committee chairman, Colin Hughes; planning committee chairman, Dwight Worden and chairman of promotion committee, Harold Jensen.

Plans include regular bi-weekly meetings, some of which will include guest speakers, while others will be student led discussion groups. Announcements of the first meeting will be posted this week. All students may attend.

Relations Office Announces Move

• MR. JOHN BUSIK, director of the Office of Public Relations, has announced that his department has moved from Building N to the University Building, 2018 Eye Street, N. W.

Mr. Busick can now be reached on University Extension 355. Miss Davis may be reached on 440, and Miss Guinn on 370.

Committee Chairmen Disclose Armory Seating Arrangements

• AMPLE SEATING arrangements have been made at the National Guard Armory in preparation for the Homecoming Ball, Pete Smith and Jack Hiers, chairman of the Refreshment Committee for the Homecoming Ball, announced today.

The Armory, said to be the largest hall in Washington, will hold 300 four-place tables and 75 eight-place tables, with provision for more if advance ticket sales warrant them.

The bandstand will be flanked by tables for University dignitaries and members of the football team. Other tables will be spaced about the hall with independent and organizational groups alternated.

"Great care has been taken to provide equal seating for both independents and fraternities," the chairman disclosed. "The organizations are to be seated as they are listed in the Student Handbook so as to show no preference," they remarked.

"Rumors have been passed," the committee said, "that there are no provisions being made for the independent groups. This is definitely not the case. Authentic information will be given during the week over loudspeakers about the campus."

Band Gets Top Rating By Gottlieb

• "THERE ARE, musically speaking, only a half dozen large orchestras in the country that really mean anything today," says Bill Gottlieb of the Washington Post.

CLAUDE THORNHILL

Having recently opened in the Hotel Pennsylvania, Claude Thornhill and his orchestra will provide the music for the Homecoming Ball Saturday night.

Numbering 16, the Thornhill group features Fran Warren and Gene Williams as singing stars.

According to columnist Gottlieb, Thornhill ranks at the top with Duke Ellington, Boyd Raeburn, Stan Kenton, and Dizzy Gillespie in "fine musicianship" of orchestras today.

In the words of the Post, Thornhill "produces deep, resonant sounds with his French horns and tubas . . . and incorporates bebop phrases into his dance tunes . . . The listener grasps the melodic loveliness of his ballads and the stimulating inventiveness of his strategically programmed 'jump stuff'."

Committee Announces Winners Of Homecoming Poster Contest

• ANNOUNCEMENT of four prizes for the best poster submitted in the Homecoming poster contest was made October 23 by Elsie Deeters, art director for the homecoming committee.

First prize of ten dollars was awarded to John Johnson of 3800 Porter Street, N. W. The five dollar second prize went to R. E. Abernathy, and third prize of two tickets to the Homecoming Ball to be held November 1 in the National Guard Armory, was given to Clifford Crawford. Honorable mention of one ticket each was made to Robert Custard and Robert Reiss.

All of the 20 posters submitted were displayed on the terrace behind Lister Library, and in the Student Club. Judges of the contest were Norris Ingersoll Crandall and Donald C. Kline, professors of art at the University.

Tekes Renovating New Town House For Homecoming

• JACK E. COUGHLIN, chairman of the relations committee of Tau Kappa Epsilon, has announced the acquisition of a town house at 1608 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W.

Now in the process of renovating their new establishment, Coughlin says the TKE's are in high hopes of an early housewarming. It is expected that the new house will provide accommodations for 30 men. In addition, meals will be served.

Coughlin added that plans are being made for an extensive social program.

"If these plans work out," concluded Coughlin, "house facilities will be offered in conjunction with other social organizations on campus, both fraternities and sororities."

On Other Campuses

● AT THE UNIVERSITY of Oklahoma they have pioneered a baby sitting experiment that will allow student parents to attend games. Ferrill Rogers, originator of the idea, now hopes he will get to attend one of the games himself.

● FROM THE PAPER of the College of the City of New York, Robert G. Peck, Jr., dedicated this poem:

"FOOTNOTE TO SNUB"

Oh, very well; No harm intended
I hope you're not too much offended
I must admit I was brash my pet;
I shouldn't have spoken before we'd met.
If you insist on being formal
I cannot say that it's abnormal
But in the future I wonder whether
You and your eyes can't get together.

● A GOOD EXAMPLE of education at its hardest is to be found in Miami University located at Coral Gables, Florida. Quote, "But prof," pleaded the frustrated freshman during registration, "ya just gotta lemme have a three day schedule." Dr. Lovejoy sighed, gritted his teeth and waited to hear the reason for the vehement request. "Well, it's like this. I have to travel 30 miles to school. My brother comes to the university for classes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. So, you see, I just have to have a Monday, Wednesday and Friday set-up 'cause those are the only days that I can get the car!" Unquote.

● AND HERE'S ONE from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania. "Tuesday's 151 Botany classes are walking around with long faces, nervous twitches, and definite signs of martyr complexes. The root-shoot test was no snap. To prove this point, one dejected pre-med walked out of the Science Hall door, desperately lit a cigarette. He confided to a commuter friend, 'Things aren't working out the way that I planned. I intended to flunk the second six weeks—not the first!'"

● OUT OF THE Carroll College paper comes this bit of witticism: Smo King: Who wrote "The Egg and I"? Nosmo King: Bacon.

● BORROWED FROM West Point—

The burglar's son came home with a very poor school report card.

"Well, son," asked the proud father, "were you promoted?" "Naw," replied the brat, "I've got to serve anodder toim in the thold grade."

Homecoming Ticket Booths Relocated

● TICKETS FOR the Homecoming Ball, to be held this Saturday, will be on sale at several points about the campus this week, Fred James, chairman of the Homecoming Committee, revealed.

The list of ticket booths includes Columbian House, Staughton Hall, Strong Hall, Draper Hall, The Homecoming Office, and Lisner Auditorium Ticket Office from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

Members of the Student Council are also authorized to sell tickets for the dance.

D. C. Alumni Reactivate Old Delta Tau Delta

By DEAN NICHOLS

● GAMMA ETA CHAPTER of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity was reactivated during the summer months following an effective appeal to the National Fraternity by alumni in the Washington area for an active chapter at the University.

Gamma Eta Chapter went inactive in the fall of 1942 when the Chapter felt that the ideals and standards of the Fraternity could not be maintained throughout the war period.

The move for reactivation gained momentum last April when two hundred and fifty Deltas, representing over fifty chapters, assembled at the National Press Club for the annual National Capital Founders Day Banquet. At this time approval was officially given for the reactivation.

Plans immediately got under way under the direction of two former alumni, Rhesa Norris and Everett Woodward, to raise funds to aid the active chapter during the period of reorganization.

Summer rushing was the keynote of the agenda. Holding all rush functions at the homes of the alumni, the chapter was fortunate in pledging: Charley Smay, Joe Rawlings, Percy Unlinger, and Franklin McLernon. Formal initiation of these members had been planned for early November, to provide a stronger nucleus around which the active chapter can operate.

Those pledged Sunday were: Ray Tucker, Don Myrick, Jack Laws, Charlie Crichton, Buzz March, George Maverick.

University officials have assigned the Fraternity a chapter house located at 731 22nd Street, N. W. At the present time the Deltas are engaged in redecorating the building, so that they will be able to move in the first week of November.

Contest Rules Govern Freshman Composition

● MISS MURIEL McCLANAHAN, assistant professor of English, will head a Contest board to select the outstanding freshman composition of the 1947-1948 school year, the Surveyor announced today. The winning freshman composition will be published in the Surveyor, University literary magazine.

The following rules will govern the freshman composition contest:

1. All entries must first have been submitted during the 1947-1948 school year as part of a regular English assignment. Rewriting will, however, be allowed after the English instructor has returned the composition to the student.

2. All manuscripts must be double-spaced, on one side of the page only, and must bear the name and address of the student.

3. The composition must not exceed 1,000 words in length.

Miss McClanahan indicated that the judges would consider organization, style, and originality as the most important qualities in selecting the winning freshman composition. There will be no limitation on the range of subjects. The judges, in addition to Miss McClanahan, will include at least one member of the Editorial Board of the Surveyor. Announcement of the names of the judges will be made in January.

The Surveyor, in conjunction with the English department, will aid in screening the compositions. Freshman students may begin submitting their manuscripts immediately to the Surveyor, care of the University. All compositions should be addressed as follows: Freshman Composition Contest, c/o The Surveyor, George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Student Debating Club Reorganizes

● THE UNIVERSITY'S first intercollegiate debating club since prior to the last war has, after three weeks of initial organization, submitted a final draft of its proposed constitution to the University for its approval.

Pending affirmation action on the part of the Student Life Committee, the club will continue to meet as an interim body functioning under the direct supervision of the Speech Department, announced Publicity Director Clovis McSoud.

Temporary President Woodrow Gorbach has outlined plans for a series of intercollegiate debates beginning about December 15. Current plans call for an extensive series of debates with other local universities, with prospects of out-of-town engagements being deferred until next year. As stipulated by the National Intercollegiate Debating Society, this year's question is: "Resolved, that there should be a world federal government."

Rowene Brooks Discusses Jobs

● SPEAKING AT the first Phi Pi Epsilon rush tea Sunday, Rowene Brooks discussed "Opportunities for Women in the Foreign Service."

Honored guest of the women's foreign service sorority, Miss Brooks is with the Division of Foreign Service Personnel of the State Department.

She was formerly with the United States Employment Service in Washington and the Iowa State Employment Bureau. Miss Brooks has written publications on opportunities for American employment in foreign countries.

Phi Pi Secretary Joy Saalfrank requests that all alumnae provide her with information on changes of name or address and notify her of any news concerning members in other countries. All material should be addressed to her at Strong Hall.

Student Body Sponsors C. A. R. E. Packages

IF A PLAN sanctioned by the Student Council at its meeting last Thursday is successful, the University student body will be the first of any university or college in the United States formally to sponsor C.A.R.E. (Cooperative to American Remittances to Europe, Inc.) packages.

By unanimous approval of all the members present, the Student Council passed a motion to the effect that various organizations on campus meet with Richard F. Meehan, student representative of C.A.R.E., and a Council representative, to formulate plans for the proposal.

Homecoming Ball may be broadcast over Mutual Station WOL. Fred James, Homecoming Committeeman, reported to the Council.

Main problem faced by Committee at present is that too few tickets are being sold, James asserted. He said that the main trouble is the lack of interest demonstrated by independent students. At least 3,500 people are needed to meet expenses, as compared to 1,500 last year, he continued.

James reported that a complete record of the Committee's activities, supplemented by suggestions, will be kept for the benefit of next year's Homecoming Committee. The fact that this year's Committee had no records to start with was a great disadvantage, he stated.

At the end of James' report, Council President Fremont Jewell complimented the Homecoming Committee for the work it has done and expressed "deep confidence in the success of the dance."

The "Colonial Forensic Society," a new debating club presented to the Council by Advocate Bill Wendt, was approved. Sponsored by George F. Henigan, professor of speech, the club must now be approved by the Student Life Committee.

Council President Jewell announced that the Engineers will put up a Christmas tree to be dedicated on December 15 to the memory of Professor Hitchcock of the Engineering School, who died last year.

Naval ROTC Test Applicants To File By November 10

APPLICATIONS to take Navy College Aptitude Tests in Washington for admission to the Navy Reserve Officers Training Corps must be filed with the Naval Testing Center at Princeton University by November 10.

Applications may be obtained from Dr. George W. Stone between 11 a. m. and 12 noon on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday either by calling National 5200, Ext. 277, or by seeing him in the English Department.

The Naval ROTC examination is to determine those eligible to participate in the program now carried on in 52 colleges and universities. Under this program the Navy pays for the books and tuition of students enrolled in NROTC and also pays fifty dollars a month for subsistence. Students are permitted to major in subjects of their choice, but must also include 24 hours of Navy subjects in their programs. They will be commissioned ensigns in the Navy upon graduation.

Candidates must be male citizens of the United States, not less than 17 or more than 21 years of age who agree to remain unmarried until commissioned, and must be physically qualified. They must also be eligible for admission to the NROTC in colleges of their choice. At present, no university in the Washington area is offering the NROTC program. The examination will be given locally at the University.

Surveyor Staff Still Has Openings

THE SURVEYOR still has openings on its business and advertising staffs, says Editor Lou Munan. Students with an interest in publicity, circulation, or copy-reading work may receive information regarding these openings at the new Surveyor office, third floor of Building N. Editor Munan added that service on sub-staffs is required of students who wish to be considered for next year's editorial posts.

Players Offer First '47 Show Dec. 12, 13

KLEIG LIGHTS AND curtain cues are on the march again as The University Players swing into auditions and preparations for their first production of the year on December 12 and 13.

Dr. Natalie E. White and Mr. Edward P. Mangum, co-directors of the group, have chosen as the first presentation "The Fan," a period costume play by Carlo Goldoni, first produced in 1760 and presented to Washingtonians in 1910 by The Yale Dramatic Club, featuring Monty Wooley and William C. Bullitt, who later became the American Ambassador to Russia. According to Mr. Mangum, "The play is a comedy, fast-moving and racy. Everyone will have a lot of fun."

The auditions are so arranged this year that anyone may try for a part. Each person will be heard privately and with a selection of his own choosing. A notice of available day and evening appointments is posted in Mr. Mangum's office at Lisner Auditorium.

For those students who don't aspire to the Bankhead and Bergman end of things, President Jane Summers says there are many crews, all in need of student workers. Stage manager Jean Blazer announces that crew heads and activities include, costume crew, Joanne Buss; construction crew, Nelson Wurz; paint crew Robert Stevens; prop crew, Audrey Sergeant; make-up crew, Mary Jo Suverkrup; lighting crew, John Slothower; Business manager, Harry Raker; Publicity manager, Orel Leonard, assisted by Gerry Leiblick, Bob Coleman and John Burke; distribution, Dick McInnes; ticket office, Bob Horowitz; Music and sound, Walter Ludwig. Committees are meeting this week so come on out. Everyone is eligible, and it pays up in points.

HERE ARE your two ghost writers, crawling out from hiding behind their clean white sheets, to give you all the latest dirt on the doings of the guys and gals around the University campus.

First of all, Founder's Day seem to be popping up all over the place. The D Z's celebrated their 45th anniversary at the Little Tea House . . . The Zetas toasted their 49th year at the Lee-Sheraton Hotel . . . The Theta Deltas hit the century mark with a banquet at the Statler . . . the K D's reached their golden anniversary . . .

Open houses are a popular way of entertaining . . . The Sigma Kappas started the ball rolling . . . D Z, Delta Gamma and Phi Mu all welcomed fraternities Sunday . . . Then there was the joint affair held by the Argonauts and SPE . . . The K A's report a large turnout for the opening of their Zebra Room, and it has seldom closed since . . . The Phi Sigs and Kappa Sigs welcomed everyone to their new houses. . .

Robby Lush is currently dating four K A's in rotation: Archie Bennington, Jack Cramer, Bill Perkins and Chuck Plyer . . . The Alpha Epsilon Pi's planning a joint dance with the Maryland U. chapter . . . Neala Nordstrom, Zeta, is the proud owner of a shiny new black convertible . . .

Jim Van Story, K A, and Ticia Calvo, Chi O, still going steady . . . Doty Davidson, K D, and Duane Stewart getting ready for wedding bells . . . Pi Phi Bobby Borror now wearing the Pi K A pin of Burdy Warren . . . Sigma Kappa Shirley Rogers engaged to Guilford Cranfele . . . SAE's turning out last Saturday for the wedding of Johnny Leppert to Cynthia Fordyce, D G . . . Katy Osann and Paul Gekker are planning a march up the aisle for next September . . .

Sigma Nu Fred Marvil and Flossie Crawford, Kappa, married . . . Also Chuck Woodmen . . . Ken Evans, Sigma Nu, pinned . . . Doe Brennenman, Pat Wolff, and Marion Fisher, D Z's all married . . . Pi K A's purring over their Aqua bar, which features bowls of goldfish, but no brass rail . . .

Organizations will soon be contacted for the name of a reporter to hand in weekly dirt to The Hatchet, so if you want your name in print here's your chance . . .

There's a great week-end coming up—don't forget it, and have a grand time! See you later.

Fraternity Holds Centennial Dinner

THETA DELTA CHI, founded in 1847 on the campus of Union College, Schenectady, New York, will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of its founding at a dinner to be held October 30, at the Statler Hotel in Washington.

Theta Delta Chi, one of America's oldest college fraternities, began its local affiliation with the George Washington University in 1898, and as such became the oldest national fraternity at the University.

Among the prominent Theta Deltas expected to be in attendance at the District celebration will be Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America; Senator Irving M. Ives of New York; Representative Frank Havenner of California; H. F. Arthur Shoenfeld, former minister to Hungary; Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, Retired, former Commander in Chief, U. S. Fleet; General Raymond W. Bliss, Surgeon General, U. S. Army; Alexander F. Jones, editor of the Washington Post; John T. O'Rourke, editor of the Washington Daily News.

Dr. Herbert H. Schoenfeld, associate clinical professor of surgery and president of the Washington Graduate Association will act as Toastmaster.

Graveyards Are Unmolested, Anatomical Material Plentiful

By MARY McBRACKEN AND BOB SPERRY

● THERE IS NO scarcity of anatomical material at the University this year, according to a student of the Medical School. During the past few years, there has been a decided lack of many necessary items. Duke University Medical School, last year, had to borrow cadavers as they experienced one of their scarcest years since laws were enacted allowing state institutions to give medical schools unclaimed bodies.

It is only recently that society has recognized the need for bodies in the study of medicine, although men of science have long known of this need and have secured corpses through nefarious methods which were not popularly known.

Prior to the time that the legislation was enacted, murder and grave robbing were common practices. This University at one time was forced to purchase cadavers at $35 each—no questions asked.

At the Medical College of Virginia, graves were robbed for a radius of sixty miles by self-styled "Resurrectionists" in the search for bodies. Iron cages over the graves in St. Giles Churchyard, Edinburgh, Scotland, bear mute testimony to the efforts made long ago to thwart the expeditions of body "snatchers."

This, however, was in the old days. Fledgling doctors of the University may now hold a "cut-up party" any old time in the secure knowledge that any knocks on the

V.A. Check-ups Speed Vets Subsistence Pay

● IN AN EFFORT to speed payment of subsistence allowance to the record number of veterans studying in colleges and universities this fall, Veterans Administration will send representatives to schools to make direct checkups with the students.

The program is designed to aid those veterans who do not receive their subsistence checks on time by providing priority handling of each case to expedite payment.

Beginning November 5, teams of VA representatives will visit the schools in which veterans are enrolled and all veterans not receiving their allowances on time will be interviewed personally.

Although checks will continue to be mailed through November 15, these teams are being sent out on November 5, 6 and 7 to check and make sure that such payments will be made.

In each case where subsistence payments are overdue, the VA representative will record the necessary information and relay that immediately to the Washington Regional Office where personnel will give priority to that claim. Information on each query will be reported to the veterans within one to five working days.

Veterans are requested not to contact the Regional Office direct but wait until the VA team visits their training institutions. A great number of veterans contacting the Regional Office will result in future tieups in processing subsistence awards.

The field workers will visit The University on November 5, from 9 a.m. to 5:45 p.m., and on November 6, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. They will be in Columbian House.

Buffmen Seeking First Win

By SKIP FOSTER

● PLAYING THEIR second home game of the season and still searching for their first win in six starts, a slowly disintegrating Colonial eleven will have a rough task on their hands when they encounter a vastly improved V.P.I. squad this Friday evening in Griffith Stadium.

After having faced some of the toughest teams in the nation, including Army, Virginia, and William and Mary, the boys from Blacksburg, Virginia, have managed to capture one victory this year over Furman.

However, in their last game with Maryland, V.P.I. barely missed beating the highly touted Terps in the final period when they were nipped 21-19.

Koester Injured

Beating the V.P.I. squad is going to be quite an undertaking because of the very costly mauling the Colonials took at the hands of Miami last week.

Basketeers Scrimmage With Pros

● AMATEUR AND PROFESSIONAL clashed as the University's basketball team scrimmaged with the Washington Capitols in the school's gym last week. This was the first scrimmage of the pre-season warmup and the Zahnmen displaced mid-season form as they pressed the local Pro team hard, making the session a fast and furious one.

Although this was the first time that the members of the team were using the full length of the floor, they didn't show any traces of wear and tear that usually accompany the initial use of the entire court.

Previous practices had been restricted to the half court in an effort by Coach Arthur "Ott" Zahn to establish a close knit defense. The emphasis that had been placed on a tight defense paid off.

The "Caps" found it hard to penetrate to close court effectively. As a result they took the majority of their shots from about the point between the foul line and the center of the court.

On the other hand, the Colonials worked the ball in close most of the time in order to cut down the range for effective set-up shots.

This was probably the last scrimmage between the Capitols and the Colonials. The Pro season starts soon and the local team has a schedule to take care of.

student from William and Mary, took top position in one of her races. Bill Dodge and Doug Cochran also skippered for the first time and did well.

The Colonial helmsmen took firsts in every race, and in the fourth they came in in the first four places.

Next weekend the first team will be in Boston competing at MIT for the Erwin H. Shell Trophy. Last year the University sailors took ninth place in the twenty-seven college regatta, and this year are rated to place even higher.

Sailing Team Wins 168-151 Over Terps

● THE UNIVERSITY Sailing Team spent last Saturday afternoon playing host to the Mariners of the University of Maryland in an informal regatta and came out with a 168 to 151 win.

Racing in light airs most of the afternoon the Terps and the Colonials both used all available skippers to give the new Tempest dinghies their initial outing, and give the skippers a chance to show their stuff at the tiller. The meet also gave the non-skippers valuable experience as racing crews.

Maryland jumped into the lead after two races, but G. W. came back in the third race to capture the lead and held it the rest of the way.

Outstanding for G. W. was Jerry Rockowitz who took a first racing for the first time. Jerry came to the Colonial team having never been in a sailboat, and first he underwent training as a crew, then he qualified as skipper. Also of note: Peggy Stevens, a transfer UNDoubtedly, Head Coach Neil J. "Skip" Stahley is not reflecting happily over the results of the past five weeks.

His football charges have just lost another ball game to a Miami University eleven which failed to score more than one touchdown in each of its previous engagements.

Moreover, Stahley cannot look to the remaining encounters with Virginia Tech, Georgetown, Kings Point and Wayne University, with any degree of comfort. At least the Hoyas and V.P.I. will be tough cookies and the latter will be playing in the Colonials' homecoming tilt in full view of hundreds of Buff students and alumni hoping for that initial victory.

However, Stahley can glean some measure of consolation from the work of individual performers. Probably the most outstanding Colonial player to date has been Team Captain Carl Butkus.

Butkus is a 24-year-old senior who, like many of his teammates, hails from the Keystone state. Scranton is his home town.

Carl is a 218 lb., 6'1" slice of mankind and when he's in at tackle, which he is most of the time, he's about as easy to budge as Lisner Auditorium.

He came to George Washington (must have been by train, no airline would take him for less than two fares) in 1941 from Scranton Central High School. After playing freshman and sophomore football for the Buff, he entered the service where he was appropriately assigned to heavy artillery.

He returned from the wars last year and has been a mainstay of Stahley's line since.

He is a physical education major and hopes to teach following graduation. He likes to play basketball and baseball during the off-season and in fact played inter-fraternity basketball for Theta Delta Chi.

Incidentally, Carl pulled an amazing and amusing stunt in this year's game with the Generals of Washington and Lee. As a result, he may now be the first lineman in football history to intercept a snap-back pass from the opposing team's center and carry it for a touchdown. Here's how it happened:

Joe McCutcheon was centering the ball for W. & L. He misunderstood the signal, and although quarterback Dick Working had called for the play to start on the signal count of "two," McCutcheon thought it was to be on the count of "three." On the count of two, the quarterback automatically moved out from under the center.

In the T formation, the center snaps the ball straight up behind him to the quarterback to take, hand-to-hand. When McCutcheon finally snapped the ball on "three," presto—no quarterback. The ball went straight up about 10 feet. Butkus calmly grabbed it when it came down and raced 34 yards to a score.

This play is indicative of the versatility of which Butkus is capable. He is alert, fast for his weight, aggressive and plays vicious, clean ball. He is indeed a bright spot in a losing season. He ranks with the best linemen in Colonial history.

Netmen Register

● BILL SHREVE, Coach of the University tennis team, has announced that all Varsity members of the 1947 tennis team and all candidates for the 1948 squad are asked to register immediately.

Registration will be held this week in Mrs. Chaddock's office on the ground floor of the University athletic office, 2027 H Street, N.W.

It is advised that all candidates register as soon as possible in order to get organization of this year's tennis team underway.

Intramural Ping Pong Progresses

Fraternity Tilts Scheduled For University Gym

Competition for the second week of the fraternity ping-pong league has been slated for Friday night at eight o'clock in the University gym with all sixteen Greek teams participating.

For the first time in many years matches were held simultaneously in the gym last Friday. Formerly, the individual fraternities were host in their houses.

Six tables were lined up in the gym and were kept busy for over an hour and a half as the individual matches progressed. Although the winner in each match is decided by the best two out of three games and only three individual winners out of five singles matches is required to win over another fraternity, almost all participating teams played the entire five matches regardless of the outcome of the first three bouts.

Kappa Alpha, Phi Alpha Astride Interfraternity Gridiron Circuit

By JOE COOKSON

Standings for intramural football leagues name only one undefeated team in each league with Kappa Alpha and Phi Alpha the only all-victorious Fraternity teams and the Dodgers and Newman Club leading the Independent leagues.

Independent leagues, barring unpredictable upsets, are almost ready for the play-off stage with the two pacemakers meeting teams which have yet to display offensive power.

Greek leagues have leaders with unscored on records but must play four more games before the league winners meet to settle possession of the coveted awards. League A has four clubs very much in the running with only one defeat while League B is plagued with three tie results.

Next Sunday's games at the Ellipse feature two strong nines challenging the undefeated fraternity records as the tying Argonauts meet Phi Alpha at nine o'clock and Theta Delta Chi mix with Kappa Alpha at ten o'clock. Independent league contests follow the frat games at eleven o'clock.

Line-ups for Greek squads are expected to be altered somewhat before these coming games as all fraternities have newly pledged gridsters of unknown merit. Additional power is expected from all teams with added substitutions a possibility.

Kappa Alpha defeated Kappa Sigma 6 to 0 last week by virtue of a seventy yard pass play from Archie Bennington to Randy Dunnavent. Hard charging lines for both teams held down scoring plays to a minimum as the Kappa Alpha's scored the first time the ball was in their possession in the first quarter and then battled back and forth for the remainder of the game.

Sigma Nu's once defeated squad bounced back last week with a 7 to 0 upset victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The winner's touchdown was chalked up in the second quarter as Stan Patton scored behind the blocking of Bob Pool.

Stan Kaiser again starred for Phi Alpha by featuring in two scoring plays as Phi Alpha continued on an undefeated track with a 12 to 0 win over Alpha Epsilon Phi. Kaiser's running and passing has led the league B leader's offensive all season.

The Argonauts suffered from their tie jinx for the second straight week as Pi Kappa Alpha and Argonauts each scored once and were all tied up on first down achievements. Three ties are now included in league B's standings and will remain there until later standings show the necessity for games to be re-played.

Independent's powerful Dodgers again scored 25 points while holding opponents to no first downs and no touchdowns as the Celtics fell by the wayside. Newman Club trailed from the opening quarter only to regain form and win a close one as it downed Draper Hall, 5 to 2.

LAST SUNDAY'S SCORES

Kappa Alpha, 6, Kappa Sigma, 0.
 Sigma Nu, 7, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 0.
 Theta Delta Chi, 33, Tau Epsilon Phi, 0.
 Tau Kappa Epsilon, 2, Sigma Phi Epsilon, 0.

Colonial Sailing Association Schedules Intramural Races

JOE KRUPA, Director of Intramural sports, will present a trophy to the winner of the George Washington University Sailing Association Intramural sailing races to be held at the University "Tempests" docked at the south end of Maine Ave.

Krupa offered the full support of the Intramural Sports Department to the sailors at a conference with officers of the Association.

Jerry Rockowitz, Vice Commodore, in charge of the series states that the tie-up of the intramural series with Intercollegiate competition by choosing team members from the winners of the races brings a new and important aspect to campus competition.

The individual nature of the sport will give many students a chance to build an athletic reputation unsupported by a team or organization.

Entries for the series will be available in the Intramural Sports Office 2027 H St., N. W., as well as on Sailing Association posters in the Student Club, Government, and Building D.

All entries should be filed with the Intramural office, or with the Association by 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, for Wednesday A division starters, and by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday for those skippers who will start Thursday in Division B. If over 20 skippers enter the races to be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, another, C Division, will be added to handle the overflow.

Only 10 of the 15 race series have to be sailed for a skipper to qualify for the trophy, but a skipper sailing more than the qualifying number may discount bad races over that number to improve his average.

Duke, Generals Lead Conference

AT ABOUT THE halfway mark in the scramble for the laurels in the Southern Conference gridiron race, we find the Blue Devils from Duke, playing out of Durham, North Carolina, and the Washington and Lee Generals deadlocked in first place with a 1000 record of 3 wins and no losses.

The Blue Devils gained their exalted position by virtue of a handy win over the previously unbeaten, highly regarded eleven of Wake Forest. The final tally was 13-6.

The Generals gained their third triumph in an easy conquest of Davidson, 32-0.

All Crews Will Swim

F. GARDNER COX, JR., of the George Washington University Sailing Association outlined the team's plans at a recent meeting held here. He noted that because of the limited facilities, sailing would not be able to expand as rapidly as has been expected. However, the MIT check-out plan would be in effect in a modified form.

Persons will have to be able to swim in order to qualify for shore school, there will be a training period for prospective crews, and a written test will be given before a person can qualify as a crew.

After passing the crew test, a candidate for skipper may begin to learn the art of sailing under instruction from the qualified sailing team members. Upon completion of the skipper training, the future salt will be required to pass an actual sailing test in order to demonstrate his sailing ability.

Then comes the rescue training, and in this period, the skipper must learn rules of racing, tactics, and team racing. The qualified skipper advances himself in intra-team racing, and the persons with the highest standing will be called first when a team is needed to race at a regatta.

Following Mr. Cox's address, elections were held, and the following offices were filled: Commodore, Eric Nordholm; Vice-Commodore, Jerry Rockowitz; Rear-Commodore, Arch Harrison; Treasurer, Bill Dodge; and Secretary, Patsy Granger.

The ten new Tempest-Class dinghies are now docked at the S. King Fulton Service Dock next to the War College, and the team is sailing there nearly every day. If you haven't signed up yet, do so by calling Patricia Granger at HObart 9568 after 5 p.m.

For all those students unable to attend the first home game of the season against Wake Forest, these films should prove highly interesting as well as entertaining.

Stahley To Show Wake Forest Film

FOOTBALL FILMS of the Colonials vs. Wake Forest, will inaugurate the first in a series of football lectures to be given by Head Coach Skip Stahley on Thursday, October 30, at 12:10 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium.

Shorts... On Girls

By SHIRLEY B. SMITH and LEUVENIA PEEL

GIRLS TAKING part in the fall season's activities have rounded the first turn and are now coming into the straightaway.

Participants in hockey, soccer, archery, golf, and tennis all are successfully indoctrinated and looking forward to tournaments in the various sports.

At this writing, Audrey Sergeant and Barbara Stone are setting the pace for their classmates taking archery. This duo is consistently shooting in the higher brackets and are threatening to give last year's tourney winner Janet Doldge a battle for the crown this year.

Miss Cook, University archery instructor, has announced that a Junior Columbia round will be shot this year instead of the regulation full Columbia round. The Junior Columbia consists of 24 arrows at 20 yards, 24 arrows at 30 yards, and 24 arrows at 40 yards.

The tournament will be held during class periods on the 6th and 7th of November, and will be conducted by Ladies Paramount Pat Pope and Leuvenia Peel.

Strong Entrants in Tennis Tourney

The girl's singles tennis tournament gets under way on Nov. 3rd, manager Kathryn Plugge has announced. The event will be conducted on a single elimination basis, with games to be run off during class periods.

Those perennial competitors Anne Hirst and Lynn Harpeter are entrants again this year, but will face formidable oppositions from Claire Okey and Kathryn Plugge, who joined forces last spring to capture the doubles laurels. Louise Morgan and several others are expected to offer stiff competition and spectators are assured hard-fought, spirited games.

The Inter-Sorority Athletic Board will sponsor a tennis doubles tournament this fall. Each sorority represented on the Board will choose its two champions, who will compete with the top court artists from other sororities for the Pan-Hel cup to be awarded in the spring.

This cup is not given for superiority in any one sport, but is awarded to the sorority which wins the greatest number of athletic events sponsored by the Inter-Sorority Board.

Golfers Resume Tournaments

The current crop of University golfers get their first opportunity to play in a school sponsored tournament this year, manager Joan Brannon has announced.

The tourney will be conducted on the Haines Point golf course from November 10th through 21st, with all games being played during regularly scheduled classes. Clubs will be supplied to all golfers in regular classes, but other entrants are requested to supply their own.

Contact Miss Brannon or Miss Marjorie Tate in the Women's Physical Education Department for further information.

High Caliber Play In Team Sports

Down near the river, hockey and soccer players are being put through vigorous drills by coaches Katherine Prentiss and Virginia Dennis, who are looking forward to taking championship squads to Hood College on November 15th.

Ann Schultz, Virginia Myers, and Isabel Knowles are setting high standards of play on the hockey field, while across the way Peggy Fox, Dorothy Baines and Mary Jo Iuso are winning approval for their superior tactics on the soccer field.

Buffmen

28-7, the Buff lost approximately 30 per-cent of its offensive scoring power when Dick Koester, star left end, suffered a fractured ankle. This loss will be severely felt on the end-around plays and pass receiving.

Operating from a T-formation, Tech's running attack has had excellent support from a powerful line. Opposing the Buffmen on the line will be Gus Mengulas, a 214 lb., six foot tackle, who was named All-Southern Conference last year. In this homecoming contest, the colonials will have to rely on Frank Cavallo for some of the running and passing. Cavallo scored the only Buff touchdown in Friday night's tilt after he bowled his way off left tackle and ran 15 yards across the goal line. Cavallo also converted the extra point.

From Cleats To Crutches . . .

By SKIP FOSTER

THERE'S AN OLD saying that goes like this . . . A good thing never lasts too long . . . And perhaps the best thing that happened to Colonial football this season came to a tragic halt last week, when they carried Dick Koester off of the field in the Miami game.

After playing a brilliant brand of ball this year, the fates caught up with Dick and the result was a fractured ankle on the second play of the game. When the tilt was over one of the boys so aptly stated, "And he (meaning Koester) didn't even have a chance to run one end-around!"

Although Koester will be out for the remainder of the season, he probably will be ready for action next year. Now in his sophomore year, Dick played end last year also.

There was a time, however, when Dick was attending Roosevelt High School that he made All-High as a fullback. Dick is undoubtedly one of the most popular men on the squad, this is humorously evidenced by the fact that the cast covering his leg is now an autograph haven.

I don't imagine many of the fans will forget his touchdown pass to Frank Close in the Wake Forest game. After coming back from his own end, he took the ball on double reverse then faded back and heaved a perfect spiral to Close in the end zone.

But I guess that's the way it goes . . . when you need the breaks, you sometimes get them in the wrong spots. Here's hoping that you can throw away that cast, Dick, and come back to snag in a few of those badly-needed touchdown passes . . .

sons at the dance and fifty waiters will be on hand to serve the tables.

Tickets for the Homecoming Ball will be sold this week at booths in Columbian House; Staughton, Strong, and Draper Halls; at Lisner Auditorium ticket office from 1 to 5 p.m. daily; and from members of the Student Council. Tickets will also be available at the football game Friday.

Friday night at 8 p.m. the Colonials will meet the "Gobblers" of Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Griffith Stadium. During the first half, a parade, consisting of 24 floats representing campus organizations and over 40 cars, will form at the University and march to the stadium.

A group of judges will be selected to choose the three best floats in the parade and cups will be awarded for the winning floats.

If weather permits, the parade will continue onto the field at half time. Space will be reserved at the stadium for parking and seats will be set aside for members of the parade.

No limit has been set on the size of the floats, however, a fifty dollar limit has been set as the amount that any group may spend for their float.
